

SLO 4: Research Genre Production

Producing a full IMRaD report was about following a specific blueprint. You can't just wing it; you have to hit the Introduction, Methods, Results, and Discussion sections correctly. Sticking to those rules while keeping the writing clear and professional was the goal, and the final essay shows I can handle that technical structure.