

SLO 5: Contributing Knowledge

The IMRaD essay wasn't just a summary of other people's work. By doing my own analysis on gym culture and physical spaces, I actually added something new to the conversation. It's about moving from being a student who just reads the material to someone who's actually putting a new perspective out there.